

IMPORTANT

Modification to STEP #4 in owner's manual:

When attaching the side shelf to the grill body (step 4) the manual will call for you to use contact washers with "teeth". This step was necessary with the RT-680 as the shelf and the barrel were powder coated. The "teeth" on the old washers were designed to break the coating to allow for proper grounding.

Your RT-700 Bull is solid stainless and has no coatings, so the contact washers are not necessary any longer. We have substituted the contact washers with standard flat washers.
